

Mr. Powell and Other Distinguished Members of the FCC,

Sinclair Broadcast Group is attempting to play partisan politics with the American people rather than act as an impartial reporting group to the public. We need news and not attack ads veiled as news.

For this republic to continue on, the media must be protected from excessive consolidation, and excessive corporate media manipulation. Sinclair Broadcast Group is but one example of the disproportionate power that media giants have gained to voice their own agendas rather than to be an advocate for the truth and getting it out to the American people no matter which presidential candidate is hurt.

If the SBG wants to be fair and balanced, they should air an hour-long report on the missing periods for Mr.
Bush, and why he failed to report for duty, where he actually was, and why he was unable to serve his country while under oath to do so while in the National Guard.

Clear Channel Communications is another example of how media conglomeration is undermining democratic processes in this country. You have a duty to protect this nation from partisan hackery getting in the way of communicating real truth, ugly truth, and nothing but the truth.

The airwaves are the property of the American people. You went into a literal fit of hysterics over the harmless exposure of a woman's breast on national television, and you made a mockery of what the FCC should really be policing against: Excessive kowtowing to angry but well-organized special interest groups.

If people don't like what they see on TV, they can change the channel, but if you allow this media consolidation to continue, all of our media will be broadcasting information that is increasingly colored by the agendas of the handful of powerful corporations that produce the programming that we watch.

Please take your responsibilities seriously, and actually police the airwaves for the real crimes against this nation, which are not nudity, but excessive political partisanship on the part of groups such as Sinclair Broadcast Group, Clear Channel Communication, and Fox News.

Leave the nudity on the air, leave the tv shows violent, and prevent the actual crimes being perpetrated by these treasonous conservative whoremongers from continuing.

Thank you.
